The most disappointing feature of the winter season was the cancellation of the Usk River Race. Cancelled because an unco-operative landowner took advantage of the thoughtlessness of some canoeists who had an unauthorised tour down the River Usk a few months previous. And it appears that they were slalomists - or had an interest in slalom. Criticise the landowner if you will, my friends, but be circumspect yourselves.

Be circumspect, but even so - have fun.
