TRYWERYN 2000

I would like to thank everyone who helped with the running of this event, especially those whose who stepped in at short notice on Sunday to man start and finish. Without people to help, no event would be possible, and just think, they could have gone to Glastonbury.

It's always difficult to single out people for special mention because so many contribute in different ways to make the event a success. But I would like to thank Irene Osborne and her timing team, what would we do without them? Sue Trollope, Leesa Gartrel and Jim McConachie also deserve special thanks as well as Richard Lee who designed two exciting and challenging courses.

Thanks as well to all the Judges who stood the onslaught from the midges with good humour. To give blood in the name of Slalom shows true courage.

Most of all I want to thank all of the paddlers who also didn't go to Glastonbury but made the weekend one of the year's best sporting events.
